

ABSTRACT

A process for producing cumene, which comprises supplying cumyl alcohol and hydrogen to a dehydration catalyst to obtain 5 a mixture containing α -methyl styrene and water produced and hydrogen, and supplying the mixture to a hydrogenation catalyst.